It's time you got what you deserve.

Dear Mr. Sample,

The number one issue whenever we talk to firms like yours is that people are simply fed up with the poor support they receive from their current case management system supplier.

At the same time, the number one compliment we receive, is that Keyhouse technical support is outstanding. That's what you deserve.

It's time to change to Keyhouse for the same superior business and technical support that 5,000 users in law firms in Ireland enjoy. Keyhouse is:

- The most popular legal practice management system in the industry
- Based right here in Ireland, with a real presence on the ground, from account management to training and support
- Renowned for having an excellent technical support team whom you can actually phone and talk to
- The easiest to use, most intuitive system
- Capable of integrating seamlessly with Microsoft Office with the same familiar look and feel
- Constantly being updated to future-proof your investment and your business

Switching to Keyhouse is surprisingly easy: once we have all your data converted (yes, we bring over all your files and account ledgers) we can have you up and running in a few days, with the world-class functionality, training and multi-layered business and technical support you deserve.

I've attached our most recent case study – MJ O'Connor Solicitors in Wexford and Cork – and I'd really like to show you why you should join them and the hundreds of other law firms who have moved to Keyhouse.

So, put on the kettle and pick up the phone and let's have a chat.

Kind regards,

Martina Winters
Sales Manager

P.S. We would make that cuppa for you too, if we could. But if you would rather not hear from us again, then please let us know by emailing admin@keyhouse.ie and we will remove you from our mailing list.
